My story

Ruby believes she's a direct descendant of King Charles. She has taken the traditional English Teatime and given it her own unique spin by replacing tea with Puppy-Mojito. This has become her signature drink for afternoon soirees and has clearly made her popular among the other animals in the area, as you can see by Friski's frequent courting of her. However, Ruby doesn't give in to Friski's attempts to woo her as she knows their relationship would never be accepted by the Royal Court. It's clear that Ruby has a strong sense of loyalty to her royal heritage, and she is determined to uphold its traditions.

Ruby was rescued in February as her owners were no longer able to care for her due to their economic situation. She is very well-trained and has a gentle, playful nature. She would be the perfect family pet, especially with small children around.
